

King Solomon

King Solomon was one of the richest men in the world at his time in history. He had access to pretty much anything he wanted – palaces and gardens, the best food and wine, and every form of entertainment available. He tried just about everything his wealth could provide, but at the end of his search for meaning and happiness, he concludes, "The most important thing a person can do is to respect God and obey his commands." (Ecclesiastes 1-12)
